Just for Today

The missing link

When we're stuck or can't make a decision, it's always because we're missing an important piece of information. That's why businesses that move forward - that grow exponentially - do so from a position of "informed power"

Just for today: stop waffling. Drill down until you discover what it is that you don't know ... and take the steps to get the answer. An "educated guess" can be very expensive!
